i have tried the memory on its own and it works fine, and its exactly the same type of memory as the other 1024 mb stick and the 512mb stick thats allready in there, they were all purchased at the same shop and are all the same brand. they are identical in every way apart from one of the sticks are 1024 and other 2 are 512mb. i check the motherboard manual and i have followed all instructions that are given, maybe its just 1 of them things that cannot be fixed....
