

Re: Security Update

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.help_and_support/2004-02/1944.html

From: Bee (in.my.bonnet_at_Shangri-La.com)

Date: 02/10/04

Date: Tue, 10 Feb 2004 22:46:36 -0000

Security Update Rollup 1, KB826939, has two versions: express-installation (2.7MB) and standard (8.96MB). The former is available from the Windows Update website only, and that is the version I have. The 56Kb modem download took roughly 10m and the installation just a little over the same again. The installation was unexpectedly prolonged because soon after it started there was hectic inbound traffic, which lasted 10m as indicated by my ZoneAlarm traffic meter. Incidentally, the installation of KB824105, a much smaller file, also showed this behaviour.

Bee

--

[I have found my Shangri-La in ntlworld.]

--

"Lynn" <lynn.williamson@btFOREVERREDinternet.com> wrote in message news:elzn4xB8DHA.2404@TK2MSFTNGP11.phx.gbl...

> Can anyone tell me roughly how long it would take to download Security > Update Rollup 1 using a 56K modem. Want to make sure I start the download > when I have enough time to complete it. Thought it best to do this Update
> first and then the others after. Update is showing me 13 Critical Updates > and 13 updates for Window XP (not sure I actually need all of the XP ones)
> Lynn
>
>