

Re: Monitor problem

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.help_and_support/2004-02/7819.html

From: Bob Horvath (bhorvath13_at_comcast.net)

Date: 02/24/04

Date: Tue, 24 Feb 2004 11:07:42 -0500

On Tue, 24 Feb 2004 01:16:06 -0800, Bob Horvath wrote:

THE fact that you just hooked up a new comp, maybe you bent a pin on the monitor cable. I would disconnect the cable, check it out, and hook it back up. I had that happen once with a Gateway comp, and I was lucky that I was able to straighten the pin with needle nose pliers and it worked.

Bob

>I can't get red color on my monitor. I tried the red, green and blue pixel test and came up black on the re test. I am using a Trinitron Multiscan 200 es Model. Can anyone help? I just hooked up a new HP computer