

Re: New Install of XP problem

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.help_and_support/2004-05/11064.html

From: Jupiter Jones [MVP] (jones_jupiter_at_hotnomail.com)

Date: 05/29/04

Date: Sat, 29 May 2004 13:08:36 -0600

On subsequent reboots, do NOT press a key to boot to CDROM.
Also be sure the hard drive is a boot device in the BIOS, preferably #2 with CDROM being #1.

--

Jupiter Jones [MVP]

<http://www3.telus.net/dandemar/>

"vbaron" <anonymous@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:602EB47C-EEF2-4ED5-AC88-34C2F0EC87E7@microsoft.com...

> I am setting up a new PC and installing XP on a new hard drive
(Western Digital 120Gb)

> The setup program starts up, loads drivers, prompts me to format the drive (which i do) Then it continues to install by re-booting the system, upon which it starts the installation cycle (format, reboot)
all over again, and again, and again.

>

> The system is a P4 2.8Ghz with 512 Mb - the boot CD is a DVD/CD drive.

>

> Any help?