

Re: Windows XP won't start up

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.help_and_support/2004-10/8404.html

From: David Senior [MVP – Most Valuable Provocateur] (David.Senior_at_FBI.Gov)

Date: 10/24/04

Date: Sun, 24 Oct 2004 23:59:59 +0100

Without the actual Cd for the Os, your options are limited to as follows:

- 1) Run down to your local high street and buy a retail version of Windows XP professional for $200;
- 2) Search using Google for OEM software and buy online OEM version for less than $50;
- 3) Find a Sunend who can copy the media for you for $20 (I can do for you! – I am MVP alright as my title says! and I hate Micky Mouse Stevens– this goes without saying!);
- 4) Go to your Sunday Market and buy from a pirate for $20;
- 5) Download from the following sites:

<http://www.kazaa.com>

<http://www.warez.com>

<http://www.serialarchive.com>

- 6) Break into Jupiter Jones' house and nick from him even if this means you need to knife him!

Hope this proves useful!

Don't ever buy a second hand car from Micky Mouse Stevens!! He is a liar!

ASCREEN wrote:

> Hi All:

>

> Got an inherited PC with XP Pro. Attempted to install Scrabble and got an error message. Upon restarting the PC XP fails to load. Attempts to load in safe mode, safe mode with prompt, previous configuration or normal all fail.

>

> Here's the problem. I don't have the XP disc to boot from. What are my options?

--

I use non Microsoft products wherever possible which requires no activation.

I use Netscape 7.2 as my default browser which has everything I need for my work.

I believe in good Financial Management!! I do not believe in enriching rich jerks!