I have a laptop that when I try to log on in either standard or safemode... I type in my password at the account screen ,hit return, windows starts to log me in but then proceeds to log me off and bring me back to the account listings.

I don't even get to see my desktop.

I have 2 (including administrator) account on this computer and both do the same thing.

I have tried the repair console CHKDSK /r, but it did not help

Any ideas

Dan
