Thanks Ramash,

No joy, I did everything I knew and somethings I didn't, this one even foxed phone support at Microsoft, they gave up saying it could not be fixed, funny, not once did they suggest a roll back. In the end I did a restore and everything is working fine, still I have a few happy but brief memorys of a super, super fast machine, hell was it fast.

The programe that caused this fuss came with the Official Microsoft mag' and is called PC Accelerator,(2003 Lite) a freebie, just tap it into Google, for some reason this causes the script error I wrote about.

Manythanks

May the Wombat smile happily in the underbrush very old Abbo' saying, dammed if I know what it means.
