No idea why you replied to your own post instead of my response but you haven't answered my first question. Please do so.

What file types? (e.g. .zip etc)

The Winzip file was an example only.
If you have Winzip, then you will be able to tell Winzip files.
If you don't have Winzip, then ZIP files will show as something else in File Types, like "ZIP Compressed (zipped) folder"
