Pete,

Yes, you can uninstall MP10 in add remove programs, remember to put a check mark in the show updates box..

You also mentioned Sonic dla in another post, you need to update or upgrade to a current version that supports MP10.. Uninstall the sonic app and see if the cyberlink app works better with the patch, see below..

For burning, (my opinion) I would use Nero or Roxio software..

Review this link and see if it applies or can help..

<http://www.cdrinfo.com/Sections/Reviews/Specific.aspx?ArticleId=9221>

Get the Nero infotool here..

http://www.nero.com/en/Info_Tool.html

Do you have this patch for Power DVD 4

http://www.cyberlink.com/multi/download/patches_1_ENU.html

If you don't want to have to upgrade your DVD combo drives viewing & burning apps, then uninstalling MP10 and returning to MP9 may be the only way to go, your call..

Ok Jay sorry , I just built my first computer. All I wanted to do is play a dvd.

Now I am not shure if it was the updates or my dvd software. My drive was going crazy media player was hanging I panicked and did a restore to before the media player updates. I didnt think I could remove them . I then removed dvd player and dvd codec application nothing was working right. I have a lite-on sohwa 812s dvdrom It came with Mydvd ver4 and Power dvd xp 4.0 The firmware was from lite-on. to increase media types

I kept getting autorun.exe freeze when i put in a cd. I removed mydvd and now the cd works as long as I dont put in a cd-r

So I have no dvd software installed. I was wondering since i play 3d games if i should reinstall my video driver and sound driver for eax etc. they seem to work but I dont know if they restore properly. Is my software to old or can i go back to media player 9.

I tried power dvd 6 trial which played but was conflicting with media

Peter,

If the hotfix & DRM updates have caused problems, then just uninstall them in add remove programs, make sure to check the box to view windows updates..

It would help a great deal, if you could be more specific as to the make and model for your optical drive (or drives) you have installed, as well as all the viewing and or burning apps you have installed..? Also, you say you did a firmware update, where did you get it from..?, on what make and model drive did you install it on..?, remember, be specific..
It would also help for you to quit answering my questions with a question and just give me an answer or feedback pertaining to the posed question, if you please..
It'll help me, to try to help steer you in the right direction..

I tried the check-up utility and it said that nvidia was compatable but it didnt work to play the movie in mp 10 . Power dvd 4 was not. Power dvd 6 trial played fine except it was buggy with the reverse control.

Then after I installed the drm and hotfix I had big trouble with my dvd rom drive locking up on every disk with austron errors and sonic dla. I need to fix this. Help .And no change with media player!!

Before I updated mylite on firmware but I did not reinstall sonic DLA record now etc It was retdetected by windows and still read dvd rs

Peter,

Did you ever use the checkup utility to verify your decoders compatibility with MP10..?

<http://www.microsoft.com/downloads/details.aspx?FamilyID=de1491ac-0ab6-4990->

Is this your card..?

<http://www.evga.com/products/moreinfo.asp?pn=256-A8-N387-TX>

<http://www.evga.com/Support/Drivers/default.asp?switch=2>

If so, did you connect the 4-pin molex power connector to the card..?

The DRM needs to be installed before the hotfix is installed..

Remember since SP2 and MP10 are major upgrades to XP, you may need to update or even upgrade older third party software to keep in step..
