This is my second try for assistance as the first didn't work. On my new Toshiba laptop XP SP2 the add/remove listed programs use the top 10% and the bottom 10% of the entire page. The remaining 80% in the center of the page is blank or has wide black vertical stripes. Lots of scrolling between the two portions. The first suggestion was a defect in the Hkey_Local_Machine\software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\Uninstall, which is the only place I can find mention of Add/Remove. It suggested that a ",-1" at the end of the line was causing the problem. The only line that I have is "C:\windows\system32\addremove.ico", and nothing more. Suggestions please. TIA, Dick
