Please HELP!!! For 2 months now I have been unable to fix this aboutblank.com problem. I am using the latest version of Internet Explorer, and let me say that even with the prior version I had this problem. If I have more than one window open and then go to close one of them before it closes it changes to this aboutblank.com screen and then maybe closes. A lot of the time I have to use the CTRL + ALT + DELETE option to get it to close. Or if it does close on its own it closes everything. Please HELP its making me crazy. Computer is custom built, only 3 months old, with WindowsXP/service pack 2/ with AMD Athlon 64 processor 3800+/2.41GHz/1.00GB or ram.

Thank you

About blank is very hard to get rid of. It hides all over the computer. If all the spyware programs and anti-virus programs don't clean your computer of this browser hijacker then the next thing will be to format and reinstall XP. After 2 months surely you have tried everything. It's time.
