I just converted my file system from fat 32 to ntfs but now I have lost a few files and I can no longer access help and support, each time I click on it nothing happens, there is also a few programs disappeared that I downloaded like a poker site etc and when I go back to the site to redownload again nothing happens when I click on the download link, can anyone please tell me if I can get my files back and how? especially the help and support tools which I always found very handy, and can someone please explain why some download links will work while others dont, any help on this would be greatly appreciated

I have converted more than a few hard drives from fat32 to ntfs and have never had a single issue. The timing of your problems may just be a coincidence. Have you scanned for Spyware/Malware/Trojans etc? Try Googling "online virus scan" and see if you can run any of the BitDefender, F-Secure or Kaspersky on-line scanners. Also, try these:
