I have modified my son's profile under xp pro using Microsoft Shared Computer Toolkit. I would like to copy this profile to the default profile so that new users have the same profile. I thought I could do this via system properties > advanced > User profile settings, but my son's profile is not in the profile list.

Can you gain access and browse his profile using Windows Explorer?

c:\documents and settings\<Son'sUserName>

How to create a custom default user profile
