This is not a "function" of the LCD screen but the video card driver. Most of the newer video cards, and drivers, allow you to "rotate" the display 90, 180 or 270 degrees.

Access the Display applet in Control Panel and check the settings.

Good morning. My children have been messing with the computer again. The screen is now turned sideways 90 degrees? I have changed the lcd back to factory setting but it is still rotated? I am now typing and titling my head to read this text. Can anyone help me adjust it back to normal. Thanks
