Brian,

With your help it looks like my problem has solved, I have since booted several times now without a hitch, and thank you for the links to the information on my pc, I will print it of for future reference, many many thanks for your help.

I have a new resolution problem now.. (smiles). think I need a different newsgroup for this.
best wishes Gerald

Glad to see you resolved one issue, sorry to hear another has risen. You're quite welcome, glad to be of assistance.

Mention the problem you now have and I'll see if I can help, if not I'll send you packing to an appropriate place for a possible resolution.

Thank for trying to help Brian, I have followed the link given and tried to do as told down to making a backup folder of the note and named it temp, the information i see is ..[boot loader]
timeout=30
default=multi(0)disk(0)rdisk(0)partition(1)\WINDOWS [operating systems]
multi(0)disk(0)rdisk(0)partition(1)\WINDOWS="Microsoft Windows XP Home
Edition" /noexecute=optin /fastdetect

this is not the same as shown on the information link but I have xp home and not professional .

is there something I should change in that text ?? sorry to ask you so much
but as a complete amatuer I just follow instructions. many thanks Gerald

Re: Booting problem

I have just bought a second hand computer, fujitsu scaleo p. I bought it with windows xp home fully licenced, I have reinstalled the computer with a fresh windows and updated, I now can not boot the pc without putting the recovery disc in, I am gett a black screen that gives me this message, "Reboot and select proper boot device. or insert boot media in selected boot device and press a key" any help on my problem I would be very gratefull.
thank you in advance

Check the BIOS for the drive detection boot order and change it to the proper boot order if necessary.

And/or

Your boot.ini may have the wrong parameters set.
