For some reason... all new programs I try to install- install in chinese and all the menus are in chinese too. My wife uses the chinese input so she can chat. Before Ive never had this problem. I have checked the regional languages and english is set to default (highlighted in black) I have even tried to uninstall her chinese input (so u cant select input chinese thru the language bar) And to no avail... any program I try to install now.. the menus are in chinese and show up in chinese. I however cant read chinese and It's a pain to search thru every new program and figure out which button changes the prog. to english. Is there some sort of setting or error?
