It won't install. I get error message MSI Returned Error Code 1603, which from searches I've done means only – fatal error during installation.

I see lots of people have posted to other organisations reporting the same failure to install so I'm very relieved now I know its not my error. No answers yet so I'll sit back and wait for info.

So how do I get rid of that annoying yellow shield telling me an update is available, again and again and again !!
