Hi all

I just upgraded my 2000 server with an additional 1gb RAM. Now I have a problem..

Users (which are not admins) are complaining that they cannot save a file which they open from their folder on the server. They have full rights on their respective folder but still they cannot save, change filename or delete file.. it says a sharing violation or something like that. Also the office files are leaving like TMP files when opened and I cant delete these files also!

Can someone suggest a solution to this problem please??

Thanks a lot!
