hi

Can I point to a thread of mine elsewhere which details my problem:

My last entry is probably the most important.

So what I need to do is somehow get XP to properly detect these devices & launch the hardware wizard, not just give a couple of info balloons off the task bar.

Can anyone help me here ?

thanks

Are you using Windows XP with Service Pack 3 (SP3) ?

I've got a problem with one, not all, USB device after updating to SP3. When I reinstalled XP and avoided the SP3 update, the device is working again.
