Jonathan, you are correct. This person is there by some unknown method, I never allowed them there in the first place, and the system allows them to be deleted; however, they will NOT STAY DELETED, they immediately reappear.

Thanks,

Joel

Hi,

I think Joel is talking about something else, he's fully aware of the Privacy tab issues.

I assume you mean they remain on your contact list. The only way you can delete completely is by mutual agreement with the other person. In other word you must ask him/her to remove you from his/her contact list and then you must do the same thing. If you don't wish to contact them the only thing you can do is block them, so they can't see you when you are online.

There is a person, who is on my list. I can delete them;
however, they will not STAY DELETED, Any help appreciated.
