

Re: messages unavailable on this board

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.moviemaker/2004-08/0216.html>

---

From: John Eddy [MS] (johneddy\_at\_microsoft.com)

Date: 08/03/04

Date: Tue, 3 Aug 2004 12:47:49 -0700

"steve" <anonymous@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:ba3201c4798d$bde1fbb0$a401280a@phx.gbl...

> John,

>

> I like that interface a little better. However the first > time I went there, no problems. So I bookmarked the page.
> The second time I was defaulted to a sign in page. Do I > need to sign in with my .NET passport or can I just > participate as on the other board? Now when I try to go > there I get booted to an error page with a microsoft site > map.

Our web based interface is moving to a passport authenticated system so yes, you will need to sign in with your .net passport in order to post. If you do not wish to utilize this, feel free to use Outlook Express or whatever NNTP client you wish to use and point it at msnews.microsoft.com.

As for the error, the page seems to be loading fine at the moment.