I have recently added a second music program to my computer and am now having a hard time with music files being all over my computer and having duplicate songs taking up too much space on my memory... any advice on the most simple way to organize all my music into one location and eliminate duplicate songs?

I don't know

- * what programs you're referring to;
- * if you truly have 2 copies of everything
- * where you've put the files
- * what format they're in

But try here for starters: <http://msmvps.com/blogs/thinice/articles/38373.aspx>
