Hello there and thanks so very much for reading this and helping if you are able. :)

I was wanting to know if either Home or Pro has any built in software (DOS or GUI format) that allows you to use the wake LAN feature.

And if so or I guess even if not, what port numbers do these use if thats what they use over a small network. I would want to disable this via the broadband router.

Thanks SOOOO very much for your help.

Sincerely,

Kenny
