

Re: how to find other computers connected to the same router

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.network_web/2004-07/3786.html

From: Michael D. Alligood (michael_at_noemail.com)

Date: 07/28/04

Date: Wed, 28 Jul 2004 17:19:21 -0400

<http://compnetworking.about.com/cs/windowsnetworkin1/ht/client4msnet.htm>

Keep me posted...

--

Best of luck!

Michael D. Alligood

MCSA, MCP, CCNA, A+,

Network+, i-Net+, CIW A, CIW CI

"AG Young" <young98-nospam@hotmail.com> wrote in message news:OAoRprLdEHA.3988@tk2msftngpl3.phx.gbl...

> OK. I will try to talk my boss into getting a Linksys.

> But I kind of doubt it because we just got whole bunch of Netgear stuff this > month.

>

> Can you please tell me how to install "File and Printer" sharing - install > which -

> Client or Protocol or Service? I could not use the XP CD disc for install?

>

> Thank you again.

>

> "Michael D. Alligood" <michael@noemail.com> wrote in message > news:ezcsUgFdEHA.4092@TK2MSFTNGP10.phx.gbl...

> > Without seeing this for myself AG, I am out of option now. I will tell you > > this, after setting up wireless networks for a while now, I have formed an > > opinion about Netgear routers -- I do not like them. I have had similar > > problems with them in the past, including not allowing MS updates to come > > in -- and this was from a factory router out of the box. Since then I have > > always used Linksys. If you have the resources, I would give them a shot.

> > Sorry I could not solve the issue for you. I would love to see what > happens

> > if you change the router. Please keep me posted on this.

> >

> > --

> > Best of luck!

> >

microsoft.public.windowsxp.network_web: Re: how to find other computers connected to the same router

```
> > Michael D. Alligood
> > MCSA, MCP, CCNA, A+,
> > Network+, i-Net+, CIW A, CIW CI
> >
> >
> > "AG Young" <young98-nospam@hotmail.com> wrote in message
> > news:OEjBVXfDEHA.3792@TK2MSFTNGP09.phx.gbl...
> > > All three computers are connected to the Netgear MR814v2 router by > > Ethernet
> > > cables. All 3 computers are connected to DSL and access internet fine.
> > >
> > > "Michael D. Alligood" <michael@noemail.com> wrote in message > > > news:etgFT1DdEHA.3380@TK2MSFTNGP12.phx.gbl...
> > > > Okay, lets back up here a moment. Run ipconfig on all the computer and > > > post
> > > > me the results.
> > > >
> > > > --
> > > > Best of luck!
> > > >
> > > > Michael D. Alligood
> > > > MCSA, MCP, CCNA, A+,
> > > > Network+, i-Net+, CIW A, CIW CI
> > > >
> > > >
> > > > "AG Young" <young98-nospam@hotmail.com> wrote in message
> > > > news:O3rJKPDdEHA.1356@TK2MSFTNGP09.phx.gbl...
> > > > > OK, My Computer / Manage / Services and Applications / Services > > > > > Computer Browser > > > > > status: started > > > > > Startup type automatic > > > > > Log On as : Local System
> > > > >
> > > > > "Michael D. Alligood" <michael@noemail.com> wrote in message > > > > > news:O8KNHiCdeHA.712@TK2MSFTNGP09.phx.gbl...
> > > > > > Apologizes... Click on Services and check it again.
> > > > > >
> > > > > > --
> > > > > > Best of luck!
> > > > > >
> > > > > > Michael D. Alligood
> > > > > > MCSA, MCP, CCNA, A+,
> > > > > > Network+, i-Net+, CIW A, CIW CI
> > > > > >
> > > > > > > > "Michael D. Alligood" <michael@noemail.com> wrote in message
> > > > > > > news:#JvQg3AdEHA.3944@tk2msftngpl3.phx.gbl...
> > > > > > > > Ok, let try this:
> > > > > > > >
> > > > > > > > 01. Control Panel / [Network and Internet Connections] / > Network
> > > > > > > > > Connections.
> > > > > > > > > 02. Right-click Local Area Connection and press Properties.
> > > > > > > > > 03. Select Internet Protocol (TCP/IP) and press Properties.
> > > > > > > > > 04. On the General tab, press Advanced.
> > > > > > > > > 05. On the WINS tab, check Enable NetBIOS over TCP/IP and > press
> > > > > > > > > OK.
> > > > > > > > > 06. Press OK and Close.
> > > > > > > > > 07. Right-click My Computer and press Manage.
> > > > > > > > > 08. Expand Services and Applications.
```

microsoft.public.windowsxp.network_web: Re: how to find other computers connected to the same router

```
> > > > > > 09. If the Computer Browser service is NOT started, > right-click > > > > Computer > > > > > Browser and press Start. Right-click Computer Browser and > press
> > > > > Properties.
> > > > > > Set Startup type to Automatic and press Apply and OK.
> > > > > >
> > > > > > --
> > > > > > Best of luck!
> > > > > >
> > > > > > Michael D. Alligood
> > > > > > MCSA, MCP, CCNA, A+,
> > > > > > Network+, i-Net+, CIW A, CIW CI
> > > > > >
> > > > > >
> > > > > > "AG Young" <young98-nospam@hotmail.com> wrote in message
> > > > > > news:OSKTZm4cEHA.3128@TK2MSFTNGP11.phx.gbl...
> > > > > > > Yes, I have. Found non in Event Viewer.
> > > > > > >
> > > > > > > Please advise the steps to enable "File and Printer" share - > > > > install > > > > > > which - > > > > > > > Client or Protocol or Service? Do I need XP CD disc for each > > > > > > install?
> > > > > > > Thanks.
> > > > > > >
> > > > > > > "Michael D. Alligood" <mdalligood@bellsouth.net> wrote in > > > message
> > > > > > > news:e7LF2L3cEHA.2544@TK2MSFTNGP10.phx.gbl...
> > > > > > > > Have you tried looking in the Event Viewer on any of your > > > > > > computers > > > > > > > to > > > > > > > see > > > > > > > > if an error id has been generated?
> > > > > > > >
> > > > > > > --
> > > > > > > Best of luck!
> > > > > > >
> > > > > > > Michael D. Alligood
> > > > > > > MCSA, MCP, CCNA, A+,
> > > > > > > Network+, i-Net+, CIW A, CIW CI
> > > > > > >
> > > > > > >
> > > > > > > "AG Young" <young98-nospam@hotmail.com> wrote in message > > > > > > > news:uvjlyH3cEHA.2408@tk2msftngp13.phx.gbl...
> > > > > > > > That box is gray out with check.
> > > > > > > > Please tell me steps how to set up all the other > computers
> > > in > > > > > > our > > > > > > > > office.
> > > > > > > > Thank you.
> > > > > > > >
> > > > > > > > "Michael D. Alligood" <mdalligood@bellsouth.net> wrote > in > > > > > > message
> > > > > > > > news:Ov10mb0cEHA.1652@TK2MSFTNGP09.phx.gbl...
> > > > > > > > > In the Local Area Connection properties, you should microsoft.public.windowsxp.network_web: Re: how to find other computers connected to the same router
```

> >
>
>
>