See <http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=KB:en-us:q291387> –

Option 1: Click forward on the message w/the attachment and open it from there (you don't have to click Send on the new message – you can cancel it). This is very easy and doesn't involve changing your security settings in OE.

Option 2: look in tools, options, security, and untick the box. If you go with option 2, make sure you have good antivirus software running that also scans mail – and keep it updated regularly. Actually, you need that anyway.

Also note: you will probably get a faster and more expert answer if you post OE questions to an Outlook Express news group. Try microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6_outlookexpress

If this group isn't carried on your news server, try using msnews.microsoft.com (MS's public news server – it's the source for all the microsoft.public newsgroups).

If you're accessing the Microsoft newsgroups through the MS Product Support Services Community Newsgroups web interface, click <http://communities.microsoft.com/newsgroups/default.asp?icp=InternetExplorer> to get to the Internet Explorer groups, then click the plus sign next to your version of IE to see the link to the Outlook Express group for that version number.
