

Pop3 & networking probs

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.network_web/2004-09/3051.html

From: International Kangaroo (Kangaroo_at_discussions.microsoft.com)

Date: 09/18/04

Date: Fri, 17 Sep 2004 19:45:02 -0700

I was using my Pop3 account fine on outlook express up until a week ago. I am connected to the net via the school's network. I got a virus (from their network) and so decided to format and start again. Since then, I have been unable to send or receive mail with my Pop3 account. I also have hotmail setup in outlook express (and now i am using outlook the full program too), and the hotmail accounts all work fine.

The network's computer staff dont know what my problem is, and dont care, as they dont use pop3. Does anyone know what settings I need to change, or what I need to do?

Thanks