

Re: Where are my programs

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.newusers/2004-08/0149.html>

From: Jerry (Jerry_at_discussions.microsoft.com)

Date: 08/01/04

Date: Sun, 1 Aug 2004 12:17:01 -0700

That right, none of the programs that were on my previous menu are there.

--

Jerry

"Michael D. Alligood" wrote:

> When you click the Start button -- All programs, your programs are not > listed there?

>

> --

> Best of luck!

>

> Michael D. Alligood

> MCSA, MCP, CCNA, A+,

> Network+, i-Net+, CIW A, CIW CI

>

>

> "Casino Isis" <Casino Isis@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message > news:6BFC15FD-EA9E-473C-85F8-CCCC165F3F7F@microsoft.com...

> > I was using Windows ME and my computer was running really bad, slow, > freezing etc. Last night I installed Windows XP with no problems, except my > programs are not on my program menu. I use a tax program and I was worried > about my client files so I went to windows explore. All of my client files > are there but I cant open them. I then thought maybe I have to re-install my > tax program, so I tried that. When I tried to re-install the program I got > the message that the program was already installed and had the latest > update. How do I restore my programs and open them from the menu.

>

>

>