

Re: windows XP/ CPU problem

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.newusers/2005-02/1853.html>

From: Mike Hall \(\MS-MVP\) (mike.hall.mail_at_sympatico.ca)

Date: 02/19/05

Date: Sat, 19 Feb 2005 10:05:57 -0500

Sam

Remove the cover and check to see if the fan on the processor is spinning freely.. if there is a case fan, check that too..

If there is still a high pitched whine, it could be that your hard rive has failed.. you should consider taking it to a trusted repair shop..

--

Mike Hall

MVP - Windows Shell/user

<http://dts-l.org/goodpost.htm>

"Sam" <Sam.1kp7pm@pcbanter.net> wrote in message
news:Sam.1kp7pm@pcbanter.net...

>

> Hi my computer doesnt turn on...first it said that the > windows/system32...file couldn't be found or was corrupt and now the > cpu doesnt seem to run fully and i get a black screen and a high > pitched tone...i was told to reboot but how?????????

>

> i would be grateful if anyone can help

> regards

> :confused:

>

>

> --

> Sam