I've had the same problem but haven't figured it out yet. You can turn off the auto restart so you'll be able to read the whole message. Start, control panel, system, advanced, then under the strtup and recovery section near microsoft.public.windowsxp.perform_maintain: Blue Screen of Death the bottom, click settings, then uncheck automatically restart. If you get help with the other I'll be looking for that too.
