

Re: VX2 spyware problem

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/WinXP/microsoft.public.windowsxp.perform_maintain/2004-09/2395.html

From: Peter (Ex-Brit)

Date: 09/14/04

Date: Tue, 14 Sep 2004 05:18:49 -0400

I think you need to run more protection software such as Spybot Search and Destroy, also Spyware Blaster is good at stopping invasions in the first place. You also might need to run a good virus scan too.

--

Peter.

Toronto, Canada.

XP Home SP2

P4 Dual HT @ 3.0ghz, 160gb HD, 1.0gb DDR.

"M3talSyr3n" <M3talSyr3n@discussions.microsoft.com> wrote in message news:B42773F5-00ED-4C1D-85B6-B71C347C2B3C@microsoft.com...

> Am running SP2

>

> I run AdAware SE v1.04 Over and over, and it says that system is clean, > but > when I reboot system, Its there all over again

>

> Ive tried a lot of spyware removal programs but nothing seems to work.

>

>

> Before I upgraded to SP2, i never had popups, but when I upgraded I was in > popup hades, and even though I enabled the built in popup "blocker" that > came > with SP2, i still get popups at the most inopportune times, such as in the > middle of a multiplayer game when I am about to capture an objective and > then > an enemy shows up and we are fighting, only to be killed because game > minimized to show me an ad that says i need to elarge my phallus.

>

> Please Help

>