I recently installed the windows fax console but am unable to set up a remote fax machine. I have the server fax/copy/printer set up on my computer (I can print to it all I want) and I'm connected through lan line. I don't have anything plugged into the phone size jacks on my computer. When I open the fax console however, it says that there is no fax printer installed. I think my hang-up is when I get to the "Select Devise for Sending or Receiving Faxes" page in the Fax Configuration Wizard. My only option for the fax device is "PCI Soft Data Fax Modem with SmartPC". What is that and how do I change it to my fax machine on the server?
