I recently reinstalled WinXP Home SP1 from the original CD. Everything works perfectly except I am running SP1. Today, I tried to use the Windows Update feature of WinXP and it doesn't work. Internet Explorer starts and freezes. So, I tried to do an update using Firefox. MS doesn't allow the usual update unless one is using IE. (But my IE is somehow broken when I try to use it for updates.) MS directs me to a download page where there is no Service Pack 2 update that I can find.

I would appreciate any help.

Link to download the entire SP2 as a single file (272MB)

Thanks for the reply. I saw that link in my quest, but it says for IT Professionals and Developers. I thought there might be a smaller download for just plain folks.
