Well, it's a whole new ballgame then! Are you using roaming profiles?
If so, check out this link: <http://tinyurl.com/bre96>. In this case, you can set the "Slow detect" policy which gives the remote user an option to use a local profile or wait for the roaming profile. It sounds like these devices wait forever for a roaming profile that they will never be able to get to because they are off the domain.

Is it possible for these users to login locally to their devices?
