just got a new dell dimension 8400 running winxp pro
single computer – not attached to a network (other than the internet) can't set up a scheduled task get an error message – access denied – do not have permission to perform requested operation 0x8007005

so, how do I give myself permission to do this – I am already the administrator on this computer have already done a repair/reinstall – didn't fix anything
