OK, did ALL the things as specified in the link, no change. Oddly, I had a clients new Dell here this week, and while setting it up, I was able to access it via remote desktop, but then it too has same issue, black screen. Sometimes it'll hang on the login screen with password (filled in). All other PC's in this home network work flawlessly, so it ain't a black hole router issue. Any more ideas??
