I wonder if anyone can help.

I use the Windows Remote Desktop Connection to access one of our business systems.

However if I try to use Alt+Tab to switch from the remote desktop to a child window in Outlook or Excel the message or spreadsheet flashes up quickly but does not get the focus.

My colleagues can Alt+Tab without any problems, the only difference with my PC is the screen resolution is 1280x1024, whereas they use 1024x768.

I have tried changing the screen resolution but this does not solve the problem.

Any advice or tips would be appreciated.

Many thanks
John Scale
