Yes, if you have XP Pro, you can use RDC over VPN; if you have windows 2000, you can use VNC over VPN. If you don't want to setup VPN, you can use RDC or VNC.

Is there a way to remotely connect to my Home computer from another family members computer? That is without someone here to authorize it. I am going on a trip and want to be able to access my computer remotely with the use of a password. Is this possible? Thank you and help offered is greatly appreciated.
