What Kind Of Conspiracy Is This?

It is a true story. I live in the third largest city in China. I found he was hammered by the guy who lived upstairs because those guys said he had been watching TV with too loud volume and that volume just disturbs their normal life. And those guys just didn't bother to discuss the problem with me but just stuck the flour (my roof). That reappeared even when I turned down the volume so low that I could almost hear the sound and that was totally unreasonable. Then there was a fight between me and over ten people. That was almost 5 years ago. And then I bought another apartment in another district and moved in almost four years ago. But unexpectedly, things happened again with another fight. I just couldn't understand at all since I could hear quite some loud sounds around when neighbor around opened their door, but there was never a single dispute among the others. And most important I could not hear any sound from that family I fight with when the door was shut when they just kept complaining about the noise I made. Also this was completely unreasonable since sound must travel in double ways, when the noise goes out, it must come in at the same time.

When those fights occurred again and again, every neighbor around seems know the disputes and hated me without anybody just bothered to talk with me for any information.

I was divorced around half a year ago and moved back the district I used to live in an apartment near the old one. Still the same thing with all the complaining and scold and hatred happened again when I almost never turn on my TV set. Besides all these things, when I visited my two brother's home separately, I found the same problem bother them quite a lot for many years. But both of the family is bold enough to talk about this at all. And also the same case when I visited my ex-wife's home where I used to live.

Then I was told about my mother who died ten years ago. Just half year before she was found affected with lung cancer she was told every part of her was in a very good shape, and then after half a year she died.

During all these years, when all those disputes happened, I found myself could not go to sleep because the bed was just shaking with some mean guy's operation. And I was awakened by these operations for four or five times every night. I may find pains with some parts of my body say my chest or hand or ear or any part without any reason when I quarreled with my ex-wife or any family member about anything about those dispute or anything that may any guy opposite might not like. When I just hit some parts of my body to call some painful feeling, the older painful feeling will die. I guess he or she may feel the pain when I do so so that he or she had to stop his operation. When I told my son who is just almost 9 about this, he told me that this actually bother him quite some time and when he did the same thing like mine he got the same effect.

And additionally I have been kept changing my job constantly not because of my own willing. I worked for a listed American chemical company, listed Singapore Food Company, a Fortune 500 European chemical company and a listed Hong Kong trading company, as a warehouse supervisor, warehouse manager and logistics managers. In every company I made it a very successful career but I had to leave because people in every company hated me unreasonably, even those guys I never dealt with. They maybe willing to do anything they can to harm me or push me out.

When I make a chain with all these things, I realize that we are facing the threaten and force of a big institution with extreme power!! For over ten years my family member just kept cheating me that all these are just my imagination not real. Because they know me quite well that I will never surrendered to any party when I realize what is the fact. But my eldest brother who is a very talented and once a successful government official people suffered a business failure and are jobless for more than five year. My second elder brother has to have plenty of sleepiness at daytime due to lacking efficient sleepiness at night and almost lost his job for several times.

I may quite certain that my mother got the lung cancer because she was so worried about her sons and herself and dared not to tell me the truth. She cannot have good sleep at night and beaten in many ways and therefore always in a bad and worried mood. That causes her the illness and dead.

As time goes by, the disturbance just spread to our next generation. My second niece grows with inefficient sleepiness then gets the worse and worse record in her examination and a heavy body. And also my son, I can feel the bed is shaking under his body. No matter which part of the bed he moves, the shake will be kept accurately under him. He is more and more violent due to lacking good sleepiness. He becomes more and more impolite at school and gets quite a lot complaint from the teacher.

Besides all these, I have recognized that the institution against us has lots of technical weapon against us which are far beyond our imagination. When I got divorced and left the apartment I used to live with my ex-wife and my son. I rent an apartment near to where I lived with my mother and my second brother in the old days. Then I found myself completely under the control of that sonofabitch institution. Every family around me is against me. Everybody whispered bad words about me, shout out to complaint even when my TV volume was very low. Guy lives upstairs hit his ground to this. All my home electricity appliances were out of work and I have to buy every for replacement. My toilet was stuck when I did anything against them. They can view me every minute and hear every word I whisper to encourage myself. One day when my toilet was stuck I just tried to communicate with those sonsofbithches and said: How can I imagine somebody like you will do this cheap thing while being a professional people like you. This is mean and cheap to play such a thing with the toilet! Are you shameless? Then all water and dirty things in the toilet just drained out within one second. This was funny and proved that my lowest whisper will be heard and they did this to disturb me and the working people are not as shameless as the institution. Additionally one day my eldest brother gave me some computer parts like sound card and visual card, I put them in a plastic bag and on the desk under my air-conditioner newly bought. After ten minutes of my going on bed just besides, some water just dropped right on the point of that bag trying to ruin those parts. I jumped on my foot to take it away just in the minute to save the parts and right on that minute the dropping water stopped and never happened again. What kind of technique is this? It looks like should be only within the god's capability. And for several times my water heater was out of work and drained out a lot of water. I just suspected that and tried saying to them: That doesn't work. It doesn't bother me a little at all. It is just laughter. Then that just never happen again, not for a single case!!

Apart from the control over human body and electricity appliance, what the most frightening is that they can control the sound! Whichever roof I am under they can make a sound like bump right on my head without letting any other guy's notice or even when there not at all any roof above me, just in the air. One day when I sent some angry SMS saying to resist them for my whole life at a bus station, they made some sound like a thunder just in the air. Bump! Bump! When I was sitting on the sofa next to the window, the sound of the cars on the road beyond a hundred meters away would come to my ear like a big thunder and last for as long as I sat there. Then I realize the truth of the reason why my neighbors hate me so much. They can pass the sound of my TV set and HiFi to anybody they want without letting their sound come to me since they have such an advanced technique on controlling the sound. Those neighbors may just recognize the sound are from me and know nothing behind that. And they may make money by helping the neighbors against me, that explains why those fights occurred. Or this is just some way to make our family member suffer!!

All these had exercised my nerve so much that I am not afraid of anything now. Even when I am facing the biggest giant!!

But the most important finding of mine for this whole year is their computer technique!!

After half a year that I had been dealing with their hackers, I realized that my computer was hacked without a connection to the internet! That is a wireless remote control without any wireless function parts in my computer!!! I ever checked their method of doing through internet for more than a whole month, study their way, changing every setting of my PC and proved to be fruitless. It is a not found or a kept-secret method to the whole open world. Actually I found the six PC owned by our family are in the same condition, including two of mostly sold brand PC, two at the third mostly sold PC brand and two self-installed.

My PC is the a model of the currently third mostly selling brand PC in the world, a local brand which swallow a much bigger part of another much more famous brand maybe two years ago. I study the manual of the PC and the main board word by word, without found a single part with any wireless function like wireless LAN controller or adapter. Exceptionally the main board supports the infrared function, but there is not an adapter attached to. I tried to pack with PC with a blanket and found it could not stop them. Therefore this is not the infrared because it is not possible for infrared to go through a thick blanket.

The most advanced method you can never imagine is that they can even control my Bios (or CMOS)!! They can change some of the settings such as first boot device, and relative to the floppy disk. I think they virtually setup a floppy disk on my hard disk or theirs and start my C drive from the virtual FDD. Therefore they can control my computer. On that basis, they virtual a whole set of PC on my hard disk, co-processor, PNP mouse, keyboard, etc. The method to find whether they are in is to enter XP through safe mode. You have to choose the account of Administrator (only shown on the mode). Open the Resource explorer then, choose to show all the system folder documents and uncheck the hiding protected system document, click the show all documents. Then you will find the folder of System Volume Information (should not be there if you choose to shut down the system restore function). If you can enter the folder freely, congratulations, you are free. If not, sorry for that, you are hacked. Secondly you can use the program of Total commander to view the folder of recycler (or recycled), most of their document including programs and files are put there.

There are two method you can select to keep them out mostly when you are not connected to the internet. First you need to choose disable the First Boot Device and start to boot from the second. And most important you must choose Auto to let the PC to detect whether there is something connected to the all four or six IDE connections you have, or they will be able to virtual a hard disk to that connection. If there is a hard disk, choose the LBA of access mode.

Normally they will reserve 5–8M of your hard disk volume to put their document when you are creating the partitions. Therefore secondly you should use the tools provide by the hard disk manufacturer to partition your hard disk and try not leave a single byte left. And then you should choose to boot from your CD to view the partition, use Smart disk if you can. If you see several MB of space in raw condition, use that document to change the partition to some very old and seldom used format say BBS or something. Then they will not able to virtual a partition for their usage.

Additionally you will have use to quota function in the property of your partition, strict the quota function to 1 kb for every user and set up a unlimited quota for yourself. These will keep them from most of the controlling function, but since the connection still exists, not completely.

I can control my PC mostly after a whole year of fighting and studying.

Do I win the maybe most advanced hacker in the world? With my bare hand and never in a classroom for PC? I don t know. But I can do most of things as I wish now.

And now I am facing the question of the revenge of my mother s dead and the protection of our children. How can I find the way to win? This is the only way I can use since I don t have any evidence to call the police or for help from the government. I don t think they are working for the government since none of our family is involved with any political party or action or ever break the law to arouse such a big problem. I regard that their real goal is money and they are invited by one or some of mean enemy to one of our family member.

And they don t ever invent all those technique to just to disturb our family. That is too costly and they are not stupid enough to do so. Therefore there maybe tens of thousand of people around the world are suffering from their operation and knowing nothing about the things behind or even where the harm comes.

If you feel anything similar, try some of my method to identify, I will publish my e-mail later and also my real place later. Let us share the feeling and fight for our freedom and our future. Actually they leave evidence everywhere when they are working like sharing the desktop of my PC to a lot people, but those people surely dare not to talk under the pressure. But if it is a authority party to work, things are completely different. Every time I post any little information to the net, they will follow me by post lots of things pretending to be different people. They will say I am a big liar or idiot or something. Please read my words and theirs thoroughly, but make your own judgment. I am forty. I have a 9-year-old son. I am getting my MBA degree on next January since I have passed all the examination. I am a former logistics manager to a Fortune 500 European company and a public-listed Hong Kong company. I earned two hundred thousand a year which is quite a sum in China. Am I stupid enough to risk my entire future career and also my son s to tell a lie or joke like this? I spent two whole day to write this and my time is quite a treasure to me. Since I had been setup for so many times, before I realized the whole truth, I just grab anything I can to help myself. I did read some secret and sensitive information from open-to-public (over one hundred people) documents and saved those documents to my disk. They used this for an excuse for controlling my PC but I can tell all were begun long before.

For those people who have already found something, please let us share the information. If you don t care, just neglect all these. But if you do care that some good people are being trapped for over ten years and suffer for three generations, please offer your help, whatever it is.

The god is looking, trust me. It has been almost ten times that I dream of what will happen and all those really happened. I am doomed to do all these because it is from the god s (the Chinese god or the western god) willing. Trust me and you will trust god at the same time.

I am ready to be put to jail or hospital claimed to be out of my mind. If it is my fate, I will accept. It is much more difficult and painful when I know the truth of my mother s dead and those harming action against our children without doing anything. I am offering my whole career and also my life. I will surely take the risk.
