Hi there,

I have setup 10 laptops to allow me to troubleshoot remotely and this works well if I logon as Administrator.

The problem is if I logon as Administrator I cannot see what the user sees and therefore am unable to sort out certain issues.

What would I change to allow me to logon remotely as the User (limited account) in addition to retaining the ability to logon as Administrator please?

I do not wish to give the User administration access for obvious reasons.
