I hear ya but it's worth adding that the Windows Server 2003 and Windows XP fixes only became available through PSS last week. So, yes, I would also like to see the KB article updated asap but the KB article was accurate early last week and therefore not something that we could have released (and still been accurate) in the run up to Windows XP SP2.

I am pushing to get the KB article updated and hope it won't be too long.

Thanks.
