

"Access is denied" error when trying to run RSOP on remote computer

Source:

http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.group_policy/2004-08/0493.html

From: Mike Herchel (michael.herchel[at_])

Date: 08/23/04

Date: Mon, 23 Aug 2004 11:04:48 -0400

When I try to run RSOP to a remote computer (either through Group Policy Management or MMC), I get an error "You do not have permission to perform this operation. Details: Access is denied."

I am a member of the Domain Admins group within our AD domain. It does not make a difference on what computer I try this from.

I am able to successfully run RSOP on the local machine (even when specifying other users).

The only thing that I can think of that changed is that I installed Microsoft's ADM template for blocking SP2 in the default domain policy. This shouldn't have any effect on this, though.

Any help is greatly appreciated. Thanks,