I am trying to restrict folder sharing using group policy in a mixed XP/WIN2K environment. Other than removing our users from the power users group, which would cause a host of issues, I think I may have found another solution. I may be able to do this is editing the HKEY_LOCAL_MACHINE\SYSTEM\CurrentControlSet\Services\LanManServer\SrvsvcShareFileInfo registry key, but don't know what value to change it to. Anyone have any ideas?
