I only receive annoying pop ups in internet explorer, such as zestyfind, about blank etc.. not in other browsers such as netscape. but they still come thru at start up!! they are making me crazy. i'll turn on the computer and have 5 windows pop up. how do i stop them. i have nortons virus and firewall, do i need something else or are my settings wrong?

also, what is this runtime error?? is this a true error message or is it an advertisement (popup) please help!!
