I run Office XP with Win XP and IE6.

Are there settings that I need to set to allow the application to load when clicking a hyperlink to a doc file or a zip file etc...??

Regards Greg
