<http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=kb;EN-US;281679>

also.....

Resets all the IE functions – for windows, hangups,

Start> Run> Paste this

and then do the same with each one of the following..

regsvr32 Oleaut32.dll
regsvr32 Actxprxy.dll
regsvr32 Mshtml.dll
regsvr32 Urlmon.dll

If still no joy, then try the following:

You may have a hijacker, malware, spyware or parasites on your system causing this problem. Thus, in addition to running your updated anti-virus program, you should do the following to be sure none of these are present on your system. Although you may have already run one or more of the programs, please do so again according to the instructions below. Some variants of malware can replicate themselves over and over if not removed properly. Please follow all instructions carefully to be sure your system is thoroughly cleaned:

Also, get a copy of WINSOCKXPFIX available at:

Be sure to read the "How-to" info here:

<http://www.trendmicro.com/ftp/products/tsc/readme.txt>

You might also want to get Art's updater, SYS-UP.Zip, here for future updating of these: <http://home.epix.net/~artnpeg/>.

(If you download and use the updater from the beginning, it will automatically handle downloading the other files. Place them in a dedicated folder after appropriate unzipping, and then run. This scan may take a long time, as Sysclean is VERY extensive and thorough and.....

NOTE: If you can not download these programs from the Internet, if your PC has CD read capabilities, go to another computer with CD-ROM burning capabilities. Create a folder on the hard drive of the other computer called HOLD, download the programs to that folder, then burn that folder to a CD. Copy the HOLD folder to your HD and then install the programs from there and run them. After you have IE access again, update all programs where possible to get the latest definitions and run them again in Safe Mode to be sure there are no lingering items on the system.
