

Re: Tabbed Pages do not 'stick'

---

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6.browser/2005-06/msg0266>

---

- From: "Edward W. Thompson" <thomeduk1@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Wed, 29 Jun 2005 05:34:22 +0100
-

"Don Varnau" <[don\_04\[at\]varnau\[dot\]org](mailto:don_04[at]varnau[dot]org)> wrote in message
news:uZCFP58eFHA.3028@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

- > Hi,
- > Running Ad-aware Plus? It will allow pop-up windows to open briefly before
- > being closed. Check the settings.
- >
- > Are you sure that Yahoo companion or the Google toolbar isn't blocking
- > pop-ups?
- >
- > If using a HOSTS file, try renaming it.
- > See: Blocking Unwanted Parasites with a Hosts File:
- > <http://mvps.org/winhelp2002/hosts.htm>
- > The Hosts File (Gorilla Design Studio):
- > <http://www.accs-net.com/hosts/>
- >
- > Check Spybot for the "Block bad sites feature." Spybot may be blocking
- > doubleclick.net (ads on that page.)
- >
- > Try this:
- > Go to Internet Options> Security> Internet Zone, set it to Default.
- >
- > Or, you might put rialtoticketing.com in Trusted Sites. From Internet
- > Options>
- > Security> Trusted Sites> Sites> uncheck "Require server verification
- > (https:) for all sites" then add (for example) " *.rialtoticketing.com "
- > (without the
- > quotes) to this zone.
- >
- > Hope this helps,
- > Don
- > [MS MVP- IE/OE]
- >
- >
- > "Edward W. Thompson" <[thomeduk1\[at\]btopenworld.com](mailto:thomeduk1[at]btopenworld.com)> wrote in message
- > news:u2%236sh7eFHA.2888@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx
- >> The tabbed pages on certain, not all, web sites will not 'stick' when
- >> clicked. What I mean by 'stick' is when I click the tab the page will

Re: Tabbed Pages do not 'stick'

>> momentarily appear on the screen then delete. I do not have any popup >> stopper activated.

>>

>> An example is at the following page (Madame Tussauds London online > booking).

>> None of the tabs at the bottom of the page will remain on screen when >> clicked

>>

>

http://www.rialtoticketing.com/app/rialto/ControlServlet/home/initialise?sellingAgentId=6&.sys.ext.webabacus\_id=11

>>

>> Can anyone advise on a 'fix' or is the problem related to the web site?

Thanks very much for your advice. I'll work through your suggestions and hopefully my problem will be 'solved'. I do use Ad-Aware Pro, Spybot and the most recent 'Hosts File' so they individually or in concert may be the cause. Your advice is most appreciated.

---

• References:

◆ Tabbed Pages do not 'stick'

◇ From: Edward W. Thompson

◆ Re: Tabbed Pages do not 'stick'

◇ From: Don Varnau

• Prev by Date: Email

• Next by Date: Internet Explorer 7 Beta

• Previous by thread: Re: Tabbed Pages do not 'stick'

• Next by thread: HTTPS Sites are very slow when compare with Firefox

• Index(es):

◆ Date

◆ Thread