I think that maybe my copy of IE has been corrupted. That link works if I paste it in, but not if I click from my email program. Also, if I go to internet options and click "OK", it locks up. If I make a change and click "apply" it locks up. If I Delete Cookies or Delete Files, it works OK, but if I Clear History it locks up (and my history isn't very large because I keep only 4 days).

I ran SFC and that was OK. I tried to download IE and reinstall it, but it said that I already had the latest IE, so it wouldn't do it.

Replace you know what by j to email

Good grief...

Possibly a corrupted C:\Documents and Settings\(\Username)\Local Settings\History folder?

Anyone else want to weigh in on this thread?

I'm going to bed...

Have to get up early in the morning and go to the job I hate...

Sorry...

Best wishes to you...

Over and out at least for now...
