

Re: Internet Explorer – Our Apologies message?

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6.browser/2006-01/msg0135>

- From: "Jan II" <abuseSPAM@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sun, 22 Jan 2006 15:50:48 -0500
-

Hi Rod :-)

My replies in line below:

- >
- > 2. I went to the add/remove programs list as you recommended. AND I was
- > not
- > able to find Internet Explorer on the list????

Not sure I understand this part....when you go to Add/Remove Programs, there is a button on the left side panel of the window that says Add/Remove Windows Components. IE is not a separate program with XP, it is a component of XP, thus, you will not see it listed in the regular list of installed programs. You need to click the Add/Remove Windows Components button on the left side panel of the Add/Remove Programs window. When it opens you will get the Windows Component Wizard with a list of various components. Scroll down to the Internet Explorer and uncheck it, click Next and then Finish. Close out of the Add/Remove Programs window, close Control Panel and all other open programs and reboot.

Open the Control Panel>Add/Remove Programs and click on the Add/Remove Windows Components button again, scroll down to the Internet Explorer and recheck the box next to it, click Next, then Finish, close all other windows and programs and then Open IE and see if you get the prompt to make it your default browser.

If you get the prompt, click Yes. When you open Netscape again, it if asks if you want to make it your default browser, click NO.

- > 3. I did run the Kelly-Korner Registry update.

As I stated, this was in case if you were going to reinstall/repair IE got an error message about a newer version being installed that may have prevented you from doing the reinstall. Otherwise, you didn't need to run it.

- >
- > 4. I then rebooted and when the computer came back up I received this
- > message:

Re: Internet Explorer – Our Apologies message?

- > "Internet Explorer 6 has been removed from this computer".
- >
- > So, how do I get it back? Do I have to re-install SP2?? or is there an
- > easier way.

First go to the Control Panel>Add/Remove Programs

Click on the Add/Remove Windows Components button again on the left side panel of the window, scroll down to the Internet Explorer and rech