

Re: Cannot save home page

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6.browser/2006-06/msg0077>

- From: "JasonA" <Jason@xxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Mon, 19 Jun 2006 09:31:28 +1200
-

I get: Sorry, an error occurred. If you are unsure on how to use a feature, or don't know why you got this error message, try looking through the help files for more information.

"Frank Saunders, MS-MVP OE" <franksaunders@xxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:u8OiSbskGHA.3512@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

You might try this from Mike Burgess first if you use SpyBot:
'Did you by chance run SpyBot's Immunize feature?
If so, you can unlock by unchecking the option to "Protect IE Control Panel".
See <http://forums.spywareinfo.com/index.php?showtopic=6748>

—
Frank Saunders, MS-MVP OE/WM
Reply in newsgroup
"They who would give up an essential liberty for temporary security, deserve neither liberty or security"

"JasonA" <Jason@xxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message news:OVELHgokGHA.1324@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

I've got search & destroy on my machine as well – works fine. NAV and Spyware Blaster are not installed.
"Don Varnau" <[don_04\[at\]varnau\[dot\]org](mailto:don_04[at]varnau[dot]org)> wrote in message news:uV4NmPokGHA.3816@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Hi,
A number of security/anti-spyware programs can lock the homepage. Spybot S&D, Norton AV 2006, Spyware Blaster– to name a few. Look through settings of those and similar programs to see if you can find the guilty program.

Hope this helps,
Don
[MS MVP– IE]

Re: Cannot save home page

"JasonA" <Jason[at]Hotmail.Com> wrote in message
news:OKNEptlkGHA.1456@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Using XP Home SP2 with updates

I cannot save the home page in IE6/XP:
When I go back into options
www.microsoft.com/... is still the homepage.
If I try to change it in the
registry I get an error that it cannot be saved.
I have checked

permissions

on the Key and they are set to full for administrators, creator user and

the username.