

Re: Active X control

Source:

<http://www.tech-archive.net/Archive/Windows/microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6.browser/2006-10/msg0059>

- From: Alan Edwards <edwards@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sun, 15 Oct 2006 10:47:46 +1100
-

Info Bar warning

Rename the html page from .HTM or .HTML to .HTA

<http://www.microsoft.com/technet/prodtechnol/winxppro/maintain/sp2brows.msp#EIAA>

or

Insert the "Mark-of-the-web"

<http://msdn.microsoft.com/library/default.asp?url=/workshop/author/dhtml/overview/motw.asp>

....Alan

--

Alan Edwards, MS MVP Windows – Internet Explorer

<http://dts-1.org/index.htm>

On Mon, 9 Oct 2006 09:23:01 -0700, in microsoft.public.windows.inetexplorer.ie6.browser, Luis <Luis@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

Hello.

I'm trying to access an Intranet page but I get the message:

"An ActiveX Control on this page might be unsafe to interact with other parts of the page. Do you want to allow this interaction? Yes No"

How can i disable this warning ?

Thanks

Luis